THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1908.

In the death of George West Wilson the State's greatest newspaper, the Times Union, has lost an able editor, the journalistic profession a shining ornament and the State of Florida a splendid citizen.

Next week the fight will be over and we will be able to give you the result of the election all over Florida. After that we will have a long rest from political news and views. Aren't you glad? We are.

Don't it make you smile to read that Spottswood, Dr Kahn, Triay and other well known East Coast railway political parasites are "whooping it up" for Broward to beat the band. And then the Times-Union's sepulchral and sudden silence concerning the governor's candidacy for the Senate. Really it is too amusing.

We again ask the managers of the primary election on next Tuesday to send us a copy of the ticket from each precinct with the number of votes received by each candidate plainly marked opposite the candidate's name. Get this information to us as quickly as possible Mr. Inspector, and in this way aid us to let the people of every section of the county know promptly and clearly the result of the election.

We have heard it said that a slate has been made up for county officers two years hence and that the New Enterprise has had a hand in the making of it. The report is hardly worthy of notice but we would just call attention to our well known and never departed from custom—of never interfering between rival candidates for county office, where all are of the same political family. No, the New Enterprise never plays favorites in county politics.

With the baseball season a little more than half gone the Jacksonville team has a lead of more than a hundred points over its nearest competitor. This is going it some and while the final result cannot be forecasted any more accurately than can the result of a primary election it looks now like the much prized "rag," otherwise known as the championship pennant of the South Atlantic League, will float over the Jacksonville field another year. Here's hoping.

One of the two new battleships authorized by the last Congress will bear the name Florida, is the announcement which comes from the Secretary of the Navy this week. The old monitor, Florida, which has recently been the target for some of the big guns of the navy, will be renamed for some city of the State. As the new battleship will be one of the finest ever constructed for the United States navy she will undoubtedly, if called upon, do honor to the State the name of which she will bear.

Had you noticed that since the first primary the "great and good" Times-Union has observed a painful silence so far as the candidacy of the Honorable Napoleon B. Broward for the United States Senate is concerned? When one remembers how consistently that paper has been for years fighting Broward one can't help but conclude that there is something in the report that the East Coast Railway and other interests which are popularly supposed to own and control the Times-Union have issued orders that Broward must be elected to the Senate. We know lots of people who religiously vote against candidates whose cause is espoused by the Times-Union. While that paper is not actively supporting candidate Broward it has ceased to fight him and that, to our way of thinking, is a straw showing plainly the direction of the wind.

"Little Joe" Brown was the David who effectually slew the great Goliath Hoke Smith over in Georgia last week. Looks to us like a beautiful case of retributive justice. When Hoke was elected governor not quite two years ago one of his first official acts was to fire out of the office of Railroad Commissioner Mr. Brown. The latter gentleman thought he hadn't been treated right and he sailed in to put Hoke out of the governor's office at the first opportunity which was the election of last week. That he succeeded is evidence to our mind that the people of Georgia were with him. And by the way, a precedent of many years standing was smashed all to pieces. Smith is the first governor of Georgia for many years who was not honored with a second term.

After all the wild and woolly talk for and against the candidates it is safe to presume that no matter who is elected to fill the offices next week the "old ship of State" will sail serenely on undisturbed and untroubled because of the cyclone through which we are passing. It is a ten to one shot no officer of the State would attempt to filch the entire State from the people even if he had such an inclination. These political cyclones are terrible while they last but when they have blown over it is always found that the damage done is hardly worth considering.

We hope not to be delayed again next week in reaching our readers, and as the ticket this time is very short the result should be known in every precinct of the county by nine o'clock of Tuesday night. If somebody in each precinct will take the trouble to send us a copy of the precinct ticket with the number of votes received in his precinct by each candidate marked opposite his name, we can get out on time and our readers in every section of the county will know the result of the election in Madison county by Thursday afternoon.
